THE AFGHAN TROUBLE.

The Ameer's Reply.---He Desires to be Friendly.

By Cable to the News.

LONDON, Dec. 7th.—The Indian government has received the reply of the Ameer of Afghanistan to the Viceroy's ultimatum. It is dated Nov. 19th, but is believed to have been written after the receipt by the Ameer of the news of the capture of Ali Musjid. The Ameer criticises the alleged friendly intentions of the British Government, and declares that its action in the pass is not such as to raise a presumption of friendly intentions. He explains that his refusal to receive Sir Neville Chamberlain's mission was not intended to be hostile, but was due to a fear of the loss of independence. He declares that no enmity exists between Afghanistan and the British government; that he desires to resume the former friendly relations, and that he will not resist the visit of a small temporary mission.

THE BRITISH PARLIAMENT.

The Proposed Vote of Censure Against the Government.

By Cable to the News.

LONDON, Dec. 7.—The Times' leading editorial this morning says if the leaders of the opposition are prepared to support such unreserved censure of the Government as is expressed in both Lord Hartington's and Mr. Whitbreak's resolutions, they ought to be prepared to move the resolutions themselves. To move that the House disapproves the conduct of Her Majesty's Government is to propose as direct a vote of censure as can be conceived, and the responsibility of moving such a vote ought not to have been left to a private member. However, it is a matter for congratulation that we shall have the issue raised at last in so plain and straightforward a form, the resolutions now moved cover the whole ground under dispute, and touch the heart of the question.

Amendment of the Laws in Relation to Duties Upon Sugar.

By Telegraph to the News.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.—Assistant Secretary French, at the request of the Committee on Ways and Means, has prepared a bill to amend the laws as to the duty upon sugars. His intention is to simplify the law on this subject, so as to end the present controversy concerning the different grades of sugar. It is probable that the three lowest grades will be abolished and designed as one standard.

The West of England and South Wales Bank.

By Cable to the News.

LONDON, Dec., 7.—The Sub-manager of the West of England and South Wales district Bank denies all foundation for the rumor of the bank's unsound condition, which caused a recent uneasiness in the Stock Exchange. The rumor, however, is reiterated here today, coupled with a persistent assertion that the bank will fail unless upheld by outside assistance.

The Danish Parliament to be Dissolved.

By Cable to the News.

COPENHAGEN, Dec. 7.—The Danish Folksthing will probably be dissolved Monday, in consequence of a refusal to pass a subsidy to indemnify the loss caused by the late negro insurrection in the Island of Santa Cruz.

A New Jersey Murderer to Swing.

By Telegraph to the News.

TRENTON, N. J., Dec. 7.—The Court of Errors and Appeals to-day affirmed the judgment of the lower court, in the case of Hunter, who was sentenced to be hanged for the murder of Jno. M Armstrong. The execution is set for January 10th.

Fire at Macon, Miss.

By Telegraph to the News.

NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 7.—Private despatches report the destruction by fire of fifty houses in the business portion of the town of Macon, Miss. The loss is estimated at two hundred thousand dollars; insurance, one hundred thousand.

A Crowded School House in Flames.

By Telegraph to the News.

CHICAGO, Dec. 7.—A public school building at Albion, Iowa, was destroyed by fire yesterday. There were five hundred scholars in the building, but all escaped. Loss forty thousand dollars.

Wade Hampton Recovering.

By Telegraph to the News.

COLUMBIA, S. C., Dec. 7.—There is no truth in the report circulated that Gov Hampton's leg was to be amputated to day. He is getting along comfortably and rested well last night. His condition has remained unchanged during the last few days.

Teaching them Just How.

Boston Traveler.

"Now you Hamerican gents," said the Master of Ceremonies at Halifax to a party of American visitors, "afore you are introduced to 'is Hexcellency an' 'er Royal 'ighness, there's a few rules to be hobserved. Don't expectorate hon the carpet has you're in the 'abit of doing at 'ome, you know, and don't keep your 'ats on, as you halways do in Hamerica. And no revolvers nor bowie-knives is hallowed to be drawed in the presence of 'is Hexcellency an' 'er Royal 'ighness, which is what you're acting of in Congress continually. An' you'll walk in forwards, an' you won't think of shaking 'ands with 'er Royal 'ighness, nor even with 'is Hexcellency; nor hof course you won't haddress 'im as 'old hoss' nor 'old sardine,' as hif you was a talkin' to your President, you know. You'll simply bow an' hassume a hattitude of reverence, so far as you know 'ow, and then retire backwards out of the royal presence."

Need of Banking Facilities.

Charlotte Observer.

The people of the western part of this State suffer much inconvenience from a lack of banking accommodations. There is an institution in Asheville which does somewhat of a banking business, and with this exception there is no thing like a bank west of Charlotte. Statesville and all the vast territory for which it is the outlet, does all its banking business through the Charlotte banks. This involves heavy express charges, and is otherwise expensive, inconvenient and annoying.

Whipping Women in Virginia.

In the police court at Richmond, a woman named Nancy Lynch was sentenced to receive lashes for stealing some pieces of iron from the Chesapeake and Ohio railroad company. Soon after, she stood in the yard of the city hall, with her eyes fixed upon the whipping-post, a stout brown post about seven feet in height and three feet in circumference. An official in the yard called to an attendant: "Throw me down that tickler," whereupon a cowhide about half an inch in diameter at the butt and tapering down to a point, was tossed into his hand. Nancy shuddered. The official said: Take down your clothes, Nancy, and hug the widder." "Must I take all off?" "Yes, and hurry up." Nancy unbuttoned her dress in front, and stripped to the waist, her upper clothing falling down over her hips and exposing to the gaze of the few bystanders a glossy skin from shoulders to waist. In a moment more she had embraced the "widder," or whipping-post. She gripped the post, her head turned toward the official, and, as he raised the cowhide, seemed to nerve herself for the lashes. Rapidly the twenty-five stripes were laid on, each making a horrible mark on the skin. At first the victim did not move; but as the remainder descended in rapid succession she writhed and twisted in agony, and the tears poured down her cheeks.

Improvements in our Coins Needed.

The Bangor (Me.) Art Association has assailed our American coinage in a series of spirited resolutions. Premising that "coins are supposed to be representations of the artistic skill and refinement of the people, and the period by whom and in which they are made," the Association resolves that "the coins of the United States do not represent either the spirit, skill or ingenuity of the American people." The Secretary of the Treasury is requested to avail himself of the highest artistic and inventive talent, so that our coins may in reality be an honor to the country, and an expression of the genius of the age in which we live.

Blaine's Bloody Shirt.

Washington Post.

Senator Blaine is very busy—and has been for several days preparing his speech on the Southern outrage question, to be delivered when he shall call up his resolution. He intends to make a general and violent onslaught upon the South, and, it is said his forthcoming speech will be one of the most vindictive that he has ever delivered. It will be responded to on the part of the Democrats, in mild and temperate language, and the latter will take the position that they have no objection to urge to the investigating resolution, provided it shall be amended so as to cover all sections of the county, and open up all sorts of election frauds. Mr. Blaine will call up his resolution Monday, unless Senator Edmonds shall ask for the whole day for the debate upon his electoral bill.

A New Era in Granville.

Free-Lance.

Monday last will be a day long to be remembered by the law-abiding people of Granville county. After 10 long years, years of misrule, extravagance, fraud, corruption and speculation, Radical rule disappeared in the county and the administration of public affairs was turned over to Democratic officials. The new Board of Commissioners entered upon the discharge of their duties and were in session three days, anxiously deliberating and consulting as to the measures best calculated to advance the interests of the public. The Board consists of gentlemen of intelligence, experience, capacity and honesty, and we may expect under their administration to see a better era drawn upon the county.

An Accident Reveals a Woman in Man's Garb.

Louisville Courier Journal.

A tramp known as Frank Watson was badly crushed in attempting to board a freight train at Nelson Creek Station yesterday. The right hip was mangled. He was taken to W. D. Kennedy's and medical aid summoned. When the doctor had examined the injuries he said: "Why this is a woman." Watson acknowledged that the doctor was right. She said that her real name was Frances Watson, and that she was born in Lancaster, La. Her father was killed in the Southern army. At the age of 16—not many months ago—he determined to take the garb of a man, so that she could make a living honestly. She has been a teamster, but got out of work and had to become what she was, a footpad.

The Bride of Death.

A sadder death has not recently been chronicled than that of Miss Mary W. Underhill, of Oyster Bay, L. I. The young lady—who came of an old and much-respected family of that place—was an orphan, and had recently inherited a fortune estimated at $300,000. She was betrothed to Mr. Solomon Townsend, Jr., son of ex-Congressman Townsend, who was a member of the Constitutional-Convention of 1846. Many invitations had been issued for the marriage which was to have occurred in this city on Thursday, Dec. 12. A week ago to-day Miss Underhill took a ride in Central Park—on Wednesday she was well enough to address two hundred invitations to the wedding but on Thursday—Thanksgiving Day—was taken ill and died. The funeral took place yesterday, Rev. Dr. Howard Crosby officiating, assisted by the Rev. Mr. Vanderwater of Oyster Bay. Miss Underhill had a large circle of friends and admirers, and Mr. Townsend has wide spread sympathy in his bereavement.—New York Herald, 3d.

The Northern Plague.

While the yellow fever is being investigated at the expense of the Treasury, it is in order for medical men in this part of the country to devote their best energies to the search for the causes of diphtheria. This malignant disease numbers many victims yearly in our great cities, where there is at least a show of sanitary precaution; but it is in the smaller towns and country villages that its ravages have made the very name of diptheria as dreadful to parents as that of scarlet fever itself. In a single New Jersey school this fall, fifty-seven pupils out of sixty-eight have been attacked by it. Let the doctors put their heads together anew and make a fresh effort to wrest its secret from the mysterious and deadly malady.

MADISON COUNTY.

Special Term of Superior Court.

Correspondence of the News.

MARSHALL, N. C., Dec. 1.

The special term of the Superior Court called by the commissioners for the county of Madison, began last Monday, immediately after the expiration of the regular term, his Honor Judge Avery presiding. A great deal of business has been disposed of, tho' no very important cases have been tried. Three criminals have been sent to the penitentiary,—this being the first representation Madison has had in the State prison in a number of years. "Bud" Wallin, white, a boy only sixteen years of age, was convicted of the larceny of a suit of clothes, but owing to his extreme youth and other extenuating circumstances connected with the case, the Judge humanely thought that one year's hard labor on the railroad would satisfy the demands of justice. The other two, Philip Price and George Stines, both white, being older and more hardened criminals, were sentenced for longer terms—three years each. There is a great deal of civil business still pending. It will take a week yet, and probably longer, to clean the docket. Judge Avery has evinced much judicial ability by the manner in which he has despatched business. He is firm and decided in his opinions, and his rulings are not influenced by the talent of attorneys, as is often witnessed on the bench. His ability will be recognized all over the State. He will do much toward raising the judiciary of North Carolina to the proud position it held among the tribunals of the land in ante bellum days. H. B. C.

The Atlantic & N. C. R. R. Case

Newbernian.

The compromise which has recently been made of the suits against this Comany and which was this week unanimously ratified by our new Board of County Commissioners, having been previously ratified by the Board of Directors of the Railroad Company, does not hand the Board over to "Morehead & Co." but saves the road from sale, and preserves it to the State and the private Stockholders. This, Major Hughes says, meets with the general approbation of all the persons really interested in the prosperity of the Road. The bondholders (Morehead & Co.) surrender $10 000, to the Railroad company in interest and coupons. The judgment is not for $235,000, as we stated in our last issue; but for less than $40,000, which judgment is not collectable, according to the terms of compromise until the maturity of the bonds in the year 1888, unless on failure of payment of interest on that account for 90 days. During the time that the Road has been in charge of the present administration, all the debt contracted by the previous administrations has been paid very excessive and expensive repairs have been made and paid for, and practically the company has no debt to-day except the bonded debt and a portion of an old tax, due the United States Government, which is being paid off regularly at the rate of $500, per month; the business of the company is good, and its earnings are largely in excess of its expenditures.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.—Representative Springer's committee, to investigate the charges against Seward, minister to China, met to-day, and after deciding to put in evidence on Monday a deposition received from Dr. Bethune McCartee, before proceeding with the cross-examination of ex-consul Gen. G. W. Wells, adjourned.

The joint commission to consider the question of the transfer of the Indian bureau from the civil to the military department, heard to day, the views of Col. A. B. Meacham, editor of a paper published here under the title of "The Council Fire," devoted to the interest of the Indians. In his judgment the transfer should not be made, because the Indians looked upon the army as their enemy and would not yield to military dictation. If the Indians were to be saved at all, it must be done by civilians, not soldiers. He closed with the assertion that there has not in twenty years been a disturbance between the whites and the Indians not caused by the breaking of treaties on the part of the former.

Building Swannanoa College.

Asheville Citizen.

It gives us pleasure to note the energy and determination of our Swannanoa friends for the accomplishment of their most worthy object in building Swannanoa College. In the course of a week or ten days from this time, we learn that the Building Committee expect to break dirt for the erection of a handsome brick building. All praise to this noble undertaking! A beautiful location will be selected, overlooking the beautiful Swannanoa river, commanding a view of this whole valley and this clear, limpid stream, for miles above and below.

The Spartanburg & Asheville Rail Road.

Asheville Citizen.

In the Federal Court at Charlotte, next week, the question of foreclosure of mortgage and sale of this road will be heard by Judge Dick. The unsecured contractors will fight the sale unless they are paid their money. Our county authorities have left it discretionary with the county attorney, Mr. J. H. Merrimon, to take such steps as he may deem expedient relative to the county stock. If some steps could be taken by which the contractors could be paid, and the road pushed on, the stock might go, for we have always regarded that a dead letter.

Looking for Lost Charlie.

Just as the great bank and grave robberies are fading into what are called mysteries of crime, we are reminded of that greater and far more painful mystery which the efforts of the police and many of the people throughout the whole country have never been able to dispel. The father of Charlie Ross is still following clews, still looking, despairing, believing, and—failing. Certainly there is nothing in our recent annals that will compare in pathos with this blind and hopeless search, year after year, for a lost child.

A very pleasant perfume, and also a preventive against moths, may be made of the following ingredients: take cloves, carraway seeds, nutmeg, mace, cinnamon and Tonquin beans, of each one ounce, then add as much Florentine orris-root as will equal the other ingredients put together. Grind the whole well to powder, and then put in little bags among clothes, etc.

All About Whiskey.

N. Y. Mail.

The use of whiskey, with or without cod liver oil, in pulmonary disorders, will be advocated or combated according to the views of different persons concerning the nature and effect of alcohol on the human system. Those who believe it a poison can point to the moral and physical wrecks, all around them, in warning against its use. That it has seemed to help some cases where the lungs were affected is, on the other hand, not to be denied; but its use begets an alcoholic thirst which has made wretched drunkards of many a man and woman who began its use as a medicine. It is certainly important, if one proposes to use it, to get, if possible, a pure article. This is really a difficult thing to obtain. Fusel, a German word for "bad liquor," or "fusel oil," as it is called—an amylic alcohol, having a nauseous odor and poisonous properties—is inseparable from alcoholic liquors as commonly distilled from grain and, worse yet, from potatoes. It is in even the so-called best bourbon whiskey, in the proportion of eight to eleven ounces to the 100 gallons, and in still worse proportions in the whiskey of the dram shops. It is the presence of this poison which, mounting to the brain, drives men wild and mad, and makes them destroying demons, or stupid, senseless brutes. It has much to do in causing delirium tremens, Bright's kidney disease, and other fatal troubles, and in bringing to a rapid end the drunkard's miserable career. Nor is it at all removed from whiskey by any amount of time. The "old and smooth" high price whiskeys are as badly poisoned with it as the new. Those who drink whiskey commit suicide—especially if it is American whiskey.

Wearing Flannel.

Hall's Journal of Health.

Put it on at once. Winter or summer, nothing better can be worn next the skin than a loose, red woolen flannel shirt; "loose," for it has room to move on the skin, thus causing a titillation which draws the blood to the surface and keeps it there; and when that is the case, no one can take cold; "red," for white flannel fails up, mats up and becomes tight, stiff, heavy and impervious; "woolen," the product of sheep and not of a gentleman of color, not of cotton wool, because that merely absorbs the moisture from the surface, while woolen flannel conveys it from the skin and deposits it in drops on the outside of the shirt, from which the ordinary cotton shirt absorbs it, and, by its greater exposure to the exterior air, it is soonest dried without injury to the body. Having these properties, red woolen flannel is worn by nations even in the midsummer of the hottest countries. Wear a thinner material in the summer.

Southern Radicals favor Grant.

Washington Post.

The Radicals of the South are solidly and enthusiastically for Grant. While the Democrats may be divided, as they are, in their inclinations, the Radicals have but one reply to questions of preference propounded to them. Many favor Grant because he is the only man to cope with the Southern Democrats in their alleged purpose of getting full possession of the Government; some think he is the only man to oppose against the schemes of the Repudiators and Greenbackers; others are of the opinion that he is the one man fitted to head a "strong government;" still others, and these are by far the most numerous and least reputable, want him again to occupy the White House for the reason that they know him and his ways—in short, because he is Grant. The remarkable unanimity of sentiment in favor of the "old man" is explained by the fact that, from whatever point the Southern Republicans start out to reason, the argument is followed to but one conclusion, and that is that Grant is the only man for the time and place in 1880.

The March on Cabul.

Fears of an English defeat at the Peshawur Pass are reported from England. It is not to be expected that an invading army, however well organized, can effect an entrance through one of the strongest passes in the enemy's country without suffering any loss. Yet, however strong the Ameer's army may be at the Pass, it not likely to be strong enough to resist the combined action of the English Armies now at Khyber and Peshawur Passes, which are within twenty miles distance of each other. Should both these armies succeed in uniting they will be probably strong enough to push the Afghans backward to Cabul—a distance of 191 miles west of the Passes, or they might be scattered among the various fortresses which are not likely to afford much resistance to the British artilery. Peshawur is to Afghanistan what the Sistka Pass was to Roumelia during the late Turko-Russian war; its capture once effected, no other obstacles of any consequence will impede the British army in marching toward Cabul.

A Georgian's Plan to Save Trouble.

Representative Bell, of Georgia, has a simple and direct plan for avoiding the difficulties in future between Internal Revenue officers and certain classes in the South with whom they are called to deal extensively. Mr. Bell would do away with gaugers, supervisors of internal revenue, and storekeepers; abolish the tax on tobacco, and reduce that on whiskey and brandy to 25 cents a gallon. As a means of collecting this tax he would require all distillers to report monthly to the collector of his district the number of gallons made or distilled, and pay the tax upon it. Mr. Bell has introduced three bills with provisions to the above effect.

A Slight Reduction of the Army.

The Joint Committee on the re-organization of the army will meet on Saturday, and will report to Congress on Monday. It is hinted that as a compromise the committee will urge a slight reduction in the army, and that it will be principally the officers who will have to suffer.

What North Carolina most needs is some public men who think less of their own promotion than they do of the interests of their own good old State. The trouble is our Legislators when elected to office nearly all have an eye to something higher, and won't touch any thing with a forty foot pole that may mar their chances before the sovereign ballot wielders.—Greensboro Patriot.

Fighting in the Peiwar Pass, in Afghanistan.

Peiwar Pass is a huge, thickly wooded ravine, 7,000 feet in height. Its location is about 25 miles beyond Khoorum or Mohammed Azim's fort. In the movements that have preceeded this battle the Afghans fell back from this fort, which is the first defense of the valley leading up to the pass. The road to the pass from the town of Peiwar crosses in its course of seven miles several deep ravines, covered with wooded jungle, and in many places commanded by the spurs from the mountains. The ascent is by a regular zigzag, the gradient not being very steep. The hills are thickly wooded with pine and yew; on the crest is a tower, which the Afghan engineers had strengthened with earthworks. From this height it is about twenty-two miles to the Shutar-gardan (Camel's Neck), which pass is within seventy miles of the objective point of the general campaign, and to which the way may now be said to be fairly opened by this victory over the natives.

The dispatches from the army speak of the remarkable skill and bravery shown by the Afghans. Their artillery was magnificently handled, and in the opinion of some of the English officers the Afghan guns were commanded by Russian artillerists. The Shutar-gardan Pass, upon which Gen. Roberts is now advancing, is distant about forty miles from Peiwar. The Afghan forces were advantageously posted in the Peiwar Pass, occupying the heights on the north side of the small river, a branch of the Kurum, that runs through the pass. But the disposition of his troops made by Gen. Roberts was skillful, and the enemy found himself dislodged from his position by the superior weight of the English guns.

Leprosy in Lafourche Parish, Louisiana.

New Orleans Democrat.

There is a question that frequently comes up for discussion among citizens of Lafourche, that is assuming such proportions that it can not be ignored much longer with safety. That question is the incurable and horrible one of leprosy. Some twenty years ago, as our information runs, a person attacked with this disease settled on the lower portion of Bayon Lafourche, which has spread among the people until now there are thought to be very nearly if not fifty lepers in Lafourche.

This horrible disease has been one of the pests that have afflicted mankind from time immemorial, but which has never been prevalent enough in any one portion of the United States to excite any serious apprehensions. But at this moment it is beginning to become a serious matter to the residents in this part of the State.

Our Representatives to the Legislature should bring this question up before that body at its next session, in order to have an investigation, and it found necessary for future safety to inaugurate steps to eradicate that disease entirely from the parish and the State. There was said to be one case in this town, but the yellow fever has effectually banished that from our presence.

Conventions to be held in England Hereafter.

The English Liberals propose to follow in the political footsteps of the United States and nominate, in future, their candidates for Parliament by conventions. The Liberals think that such a course will give them control of the government, and there is no reason to doubt that it will greatly improve their chances. There are many objections to the present English nominating system. In a great many instances unknown or unpopular men are run. Moreover, there being no convention to select a nominee, two or more Liberal candidates for M. P., ran, in the late elections, in no less than twenty districts, thus dividing the Liberal vote and electing Conservatives. If this proposed change be carried out as is promised, and candidates for Parliament are nominated in Great Britain by conventions, it will mark a most important epoch in the history of that country, will completely change its political ways, and will undoubtedly do much to revolutionize and republicanize the country.

The Last Man.

It will be remembered when the English Army last penetrated the Afghan Highlands and captured Cabul, they were finally forced to retreat and of all the 28.000 men, women and children, only one soul escaped to tell the tale. His story was as follows:

"Among the survivors towards the end of the slaughter was his native assistant, who, calling Brydon to him, said:—"Doctor, sahib, I cannot possibly escape; I am dying from cold and hunger; take my pony and do the best you can for yourself." Brydon tried to encourage the poor man, but, seeing that he was indeed dying, he took the pony, and turough the confusion forced his way to the front. There he found a small group of mounted officers, who, knowing they were just at the end of the pass, where it opens on which Jellalabad stands, had determined to make a push for life. Seeing Brydon on this wretched, half-starved pony, they declared they could not possibly wait for him, as any delay might cause their utter destruction. On they went, leaving Brydon slowly toiling after them. The Afghans saw this group approaching, met and slew every man; then, thinking no one else was coming, went back to the hills. Just then Brydon passed. At Jellalabad, where news of Elphinstone's force was anxiously looking for, at evening one man, slowly riding a worn-out pony, was descried at the entrance of the pass. Some cavalry were sent to bring him in. It was Brydon. As he entered the gate he fell senseless from fatigue. When he came to himself his first question was about the pony that had saved his life; it was dead. Brydon was with Sale during the gallant defence of Jellalabad, and lived to take part in the defense of Luck-now. An Afghan sabre-cut, glancing from a book he had in his forage cap, shore away a piece of his skull so that a finger could be placed in the wound.

A writer in the New York Times predicts that the time will come when dogs will become a favorite article of food in civilized nations. He adds that a young dog tastes very much like mutton. When that time comes perhaps North Carolina may get rid of some of the dogs that now infest her broad domain. Here old dogs as well as young ought to "taste like mutton" from the number of sheep they devour.—Patriot.

The National Party.

Philadelphia Record.

The "Central Executive Committee of the National party" in their address to the public, exhibit more enthusiasm than experience when they assume that the great strength of the party exhibited at the recent elections foreshadows its triumph in the general election of 1880. They seem to take no heed of the fate of other third parties, or even of the varying successes of the two old parties, which have so often set at naught the calculations of the best politicians. In 1840 the Democracy were overwhelmed by a tidal wave, while in 1844 they carried the country by storm; in 1848 they were again badly defeated, while in 1852 they carried all but four States, in 1856 they barely succeeded, while in 1860 they were split to pieces, and have not been in power since. In fact, the difficulty of such a powerful party to obtain control of the Government, even with a million majority, ought to cause the Greenbackers to have some doubt of their immediate success.

The Census of 1880.

Atlanta Constitution.

The annual report of General Francis A. Walker, superintendent of the census, is not without interest in view of the approach of the time for a new enumeration. Upon the census of 1880 will be based, of course, a reappointment of representation in the lower house of congress. General Walker has anticipated the official census by a declaration that the population of the northwest has enormously increased, while that in the east and south, except in Texas, has remained comparatively unchanged. The radical politicians, therefore, flatter themselves that the coming census cannot fail to restore to the north that preponderance of numbers in congress which it held before the colored vote of the south was given consideration. General Walker strongly objects to the taking of another census under the act of 1850. That act provides that the marshals of the several judicial districts shall direct and superintend the enumeration, with the power of appointing assistants to conduct the work. He believes that the work of census-taking is so far exceptional and unique in its requirements as to demand that those who conduct it should be selected with special reference to their fitness for the duties.

Down on the Dogs.

Ladies who have pet poodles receive neither aid nor comfort from The Presbyterian. In a vigorous editorial on "Dogs vs. Children" that paper says: "To see a dog on the lap of a man or woman who have the ability to support a child, is a crime that the judgment will avenge. Children are as accessible and abundant as pups, and as good-looking, and require no more care than multitudes give their dogs. Nor do they cost any more to support; and in the possibilities of their natures for good, why an angel would be outraged if required to make the comparison. In the one case, it is to preserve and hand down the course of time the image of God; in the other, it is to spend the outgoing force of the image of God, which ought to be devoted to His Glory and the good of the race, on worthless curs." The Presbyterian is especially severe on the ladies who take pampered puppy dogs to ride in carriages. "Sometimes we are compelled to see these wretched dogs carried out on their airing expeditions. A grand turnout whirls by, and gay and dashing steeds prance along the highways. Two stalwart men guard it front and back. Inside is a richly-robed beauty, with dainty fingers and immaculate gloves. The richest silk covers this splendid make-up of dust and ashes and in her lap lies an exhausted dog, so overcome that it can scarcely raise its languid eyes into the loving face that is pouring her motherly instinct upon it." The man servant who fas ened a silken haired pet poodle to a pole and washed windows with him would be a hero in the eyes of the writer of this article.

The Beam in Their Own Eye.

Courier Journal.

Mr. Blaine appears anxious to expose the "crime against the right of suffrage." If an investigation into the methods of the late election begins, it should extend through every New England State, especially at the manufacturing towns; it should have full sweep in New York City, where Supervisor of Elections Davenport, in behalf of the Federal Government, forcibly and violently deprived thousands of voters of their ballots and took away their naturalization papers, which have been pronounced perfectly legal by the courts. That investigation should extend throughout Pennsylvania, rotten with Radical election frauds and bulldozing, and through the West. By the time the Committee gets through New England, Blaine and his Radical friends will have enough of the investigation.

Business Prosperity in the West.

Springfield Republican.

The western farmers talk very cheerfully of the condition of their affairs, and so do the business men of the large cities in that part of the country. There have been two abundant crops in succession, which find a ready market, and both producer and trafficker have acquired from the experience of the past five years a wholesome horror of long credits. Never before have sales been made so largely for cash or on short time. The revival of business in the South from the stagnation caused by yellow fever has been rapid, and many western dealers have all they can do to fill the orders from that section.

Death of a Baptist Minister.

Charlotte Observer.

News has just been received in this city of the death, on Sunday last, of Rev. Wade Hill, of the Baptist Church, who breathed his last at his home in Rutherfordton. His disease was typhoid fever. Mr. Hill was born in 1813, and was, therefore, 65 years old. He was one of the leading Baptist ministers in Western North Carolina, and one who had much to shape the workings of the denomination. His death is a great loss, and one that will be hard to fill.

Negotiations between Russia and Turkey relative to a definitive convention continue to proceed favorably. Turkey acknowledges her liability to pay 30,000,000 roubles indemnity, and agrees to pay it in yearly installments. The point still pending is the insertion of a provision relative to Montenegro.

Strange Bulldozing.

New Orleans Democrat.

There has not been much said about the Democratic bulldozing in Alabama, and yet there are greater outrages committed daily in that State than in any other south of the line. One poor negro, living in Montgomery, has not only been bulldozed into Democracy, but actually frightened into editing a Democratic newspaper. A solid North should range itself against outrages and massacres like this.

J. L. Stone, Esq.

Among the pioneer sewing machine men of the State is Mr. J. L. Stone, the general agent for the New Home Sewing Machine, on Fayetteville street. Mr. Stone began the business early in 1870 and has met with a succession of successes ever since. He has sold a great many machines—in all about 1500 amounting to about $100 000. His efforts of late have been devoted entirely to the New Home, one of the best in use—and his success has been quite remarkable, having sold not less than 400 since last March. *

DAILY NEWS

SUNDAY, ... DECEMBER 8, 1878

ORGAN OF THE DEMOCRATIC PARTY

The News Building, No. 6. Martin Stree

Popular Wants, Public Economy, &c.,

The News has long since taken ground on this question. The times demand the inauguration of an era when the condition of the people shall have a consideration superior to the cravings of office-holders or the development of extravagant projects to be executed at public expense. Justice to an impoverished people who bear the burden of taxation that is to sustain lavish expenditure; and State honor, which forbids the diversion of a single dollar from the imperious duty of sustaining it, compel the retracement of steps which were led away from the paths of economy by the contagious influences of a period at which all the elements of folly and licentiousness were let loose to infect public morals and manners. The people are too poor longer to endure such indulgence as is only authorized to the most general prosperity. The State is too much in debt, or has too many onerous obligations imposed upon her resources, to be free to spend a dollar beyond the limits defined by a rigid and just economy.

In preceding articles in the News, the subjects in which judicious and reasonable contraction of expenses ought to be made have been set forth at length, and it is now necessary to recapitulate them. We might comment upon the most obvious and natural topic of popular complaint—official salaries and perquisites. These are presumed to be proportioned to the dignity of the offices filled, and to the ability and services of those who fill them. And it is true, that to secure competent public servants, it is necessary to give such compensation as will induce the offer of service of the most proper men. Some officers, such as the judicial, require learning, character and experience; and the possessors of such qualifications are found among men so eminent in their profession as to be in the enjoyment of lucrative practice. To assign them a compensation much below their usual professional gains is to exact a sacrifice few men are capable of making; or else it would bring into competition for judicial honors a class of men who would not meet the necessary requisites. But such officers as are dependent upon party tenure, and expire with each successive change of State administration, should be regulated more with reference to the character of incumbents as public servants, than in view of rewards for party services. No office in North Carolina is in danger of becoming a sinecure. Each one has a sufficiency of labor assigned to it, but no office ought to have such emolument attached to it as to make it the prize of a desperate struggle.

The curse of office-seeking has fallen upon our whole people. The public purse is the grand reservoir from which is to be drawn the sustenance of the multitude. The ambition to pass out of the laborious ranks of the producer into those of the favored recipients of public bounty rages like an epidemic. There is some mystic virtue in office, it would seem, that holds out the promise of a sovereign panacea for the ills of human life. However small the compensation, there is a charm about official pay which gives it a higher value than the same amount earned in private station. It may be that there is a lurking belief that outside of stated salary there is always an unmeasured margin of emolument of fees and perquisites. Therefore, in all offices, great or small, if there is a delusion on this point, it ought to be disabused. If the expectation has foundation, then it should be disappointed by making all compensation fixed, certain, inflexible and moderate. The mania for office-seeking, which is the great element of agitation in our political conflicts, and which leaves altogether out of sight the very subject of conflict, the interests of the people at large, should be checked by such legislation as will dwarf temptation within moderate bounds.

Legislation can properly be invoked to check the tendency to large appropriations for works or institutions which make their powerful appeals to human sympathy and public assistance. With the progress of social enlightenment, and under the humane lead of scientific suggestion, much has been undertaken and much accomplished to ameliorate the condition of afflicted humanity. In this benevolent current North Carolina was caught and swept away beyond her depth. She has undertaken obligations far beyond her capacities to perfect with justice to those who must bear the burden. That burden rests heavily upon a people lately ruined in fortune, and repressed in their manful efforts to rise again by every form of financial hindrance. Financial mismanagement which has put to flight or locked up nearly the whole circulating medium; onerous government impositions upon the most important articles of industrial pursuit; and prices of agricultural produce so small as to discourage the effort at production—is it a time to indulge in costly charities, or ostentatious benevolence, when the wisest of charity is to hearken to the pitiful cry of the whole people for relief, and the most judicious of benevolence is to lighten their burden?

The Wake and Halifax Tax Injunctions.

Our telegraphic columns yesterday announced the issuance of Injunctions granted by Judge Seymour on the application of tax-payers of Wake and Halifax. In each instance the illegal levy was made by the Radical Boards of County Commissioners now happily out of office, but the Democratic Boards had not, as they should have done, reduced the levy to an accordance with law. The applications for an Injunction in these counties show conclusively that the people feel the weight of taxation, and are determined that Democratic officials shall keep within its legal limit. The point on which the Injunction was granted is settled by law, and as apropos to the times and the occasion we quote from the able, just and beautiful exposition of the question laid down by Judge Bynum in delivering the opinion of the Supreme Court, French v. New Hanover, 74 N. C. 692.

"It admits of no dispute now, that taxation for State and county taxes combined can not exceed the constitutional limitation for their necessary expenses and new debts. If what are often miscalled the "necessary expenses" of a county exceed the limitation prescribed by law, the necessity cannot justify the violation of the constitution. In such cases two remedies are open to the county. One is to apply to the Legislature, if the tax is required for a special purpose. The other and better way, however, is to reduce the expenditures. The old proverb, "cut the garment according to the cloth," has in it much practical wisdom. It is illustrated every day in private life, and is the foundation of individual integrity, contentment and success. In every relation of wholesome life, men adapt their wants and expenditures to their income. No good reason can exist why the same obligation does not rest upon corporations, and is not equally as practicable. Instead of which, as things now go, those who are entrusted with other people's money and property, whether State's or county's, instead of practising prudence and economy in the discharge of their trust, seem emulous of each other in extravagance. The end of such a course is easily seen, and must be one of disaster and disgrace."

This noble extract well deserves to be copied by every paper, and perused by every intelligent voter in North Carolina.

Government salaries and fees are too high. Railroad tariffs are too high. These burdens should be reduced. With cotton at 8 cents a pound and other products in proportion, the farmers cannot stand these drains upon them. Let the public officials and railroads stand back and give the people a living chance.

The appropriation for clearing out Neuse River could not have been placed in better hands. General Robert Ransom, now in charge of the work, is expending the small sum at his disposal judiciously and economically and for the best interests of the public.

VEGETINE

WILL CURE CANCER!

PROOF! PROOF!! PROOF!!!

H. R. STEVENS, ESQ:—

Dear Sir,—About two years ago, a Cancer made its appearance on my face, left side of my nose. When I first noticed it, 'was about the size of a pinhead (very small). It increased in size, and spread on my face until it became as large as a common cent. I tried all kinds of remedies and advice from a physician. It was spreading, and eating into my flesh very fast. I was very much alarmed. I went to see a physician who cured Cancers: he did not give me much encouragement. It pained me very much, I suffered night and day. It would bleed at times very profusely. Everything was done that could be to try to cure the cancer. My brother had a cancer on his lip; he submitted to a operation, being well discouraged I was on my way to Dr. Woodberry's apothecary store of this town. He gave me your pamphlet, containing many cures by the use of Vegetine. I found on page 15 where Vegetine had cured a cancer on a lady's nose. I then bought a bottle of your Vegetine and it proved a great blessing to me; I could see good effects from it right away. After taking three bottles, it stopped the spreading of the cancer about the center; it check'd the eating into my flesh. I could see it was gradually healing. I kept on taking Vegetine, the cancer slowly disappearing, until I had taken six bottles and it completely cured it. It has left a large scar on the side of my nose; and I feel it my duty to recommend Vegetine to all like sufferers, as it is certainly a great Blood purifier. I am now sixty-three years of age, and Vegetine has greatly improved my general health.

Yours most respectfully,

WM. P. CLEAVES.

34 Federal St., Beverly, Mass.

We, whose names are annexed, can testify to the above as Mr. Cleaves is an old resident of this town.

O. WOODBERRY, Apothecary RICH'D PEDRICK, HERBERT S. SMITH, ANDREW MEATON, A. GLIDDEN, GEO. S. MILLET.

VEGETINE—For eradicating all impurities of the blood from the system, it has no equal. It has never failed to effect a cure, giving Life and Strength to the system debilitated by disease, in fact, it is, as many have called it, "The Great Health Restorer."

Vegetine

CURED AFTER 20 YEARS SUFFERING.

READVILLE, MASS., Feb. 18, 1872.

H. R. STEVENS, ESQ:—

Dear Sir,—It gives me great pleasure to give in my testimony to the good effect the Vegetine has had on me. I have been troubled for twenty years with an eating ulcer on my shin-bone. During that time I have tried many remedies, but have not had it cured till now. Some three months ago it was very bad so that the flesh was eaten into the bone, from a place as large as the palm of your hand. I was recommended by Mr. Tilton to try your Vegetine, and I did so. In taking the first bottle, it commenced to heal, and I have only five bottles, and it is all healed nicely, and I would cheerfully recommend it to all alike afflicted.

Respectfully yours,

WILSON SEARS.

Vegetine thoroughly eradicates every kind of humor, and restores the entire system to a healthy condition.

Vegetine

A VALUABLE MEDICINE.

CINCINNATI, 1877.

H. R. STEVENS, ESQ:—

Dear Sir,—I have used your Vegetine in my family, and know it to be, and can recommend it as a good purifier and cleanser of the blood. I have used several bottles; it is a valuable medicine

Respectfully,

D. B. STEBBITT, Grocer,

N. E. Cor. Main and Franklin Sts.

Thousands will bear testimony (and do it voluntarily) that Vegetine is the best medical compound yet placed before the public for renovating and purifying the blood, eradicating all humors, impurities, or poisonous secretions from the system, invigorating and strengthening the system debilitated by disease; in fact, it is, as many have called it, "The Great Health Restorer."

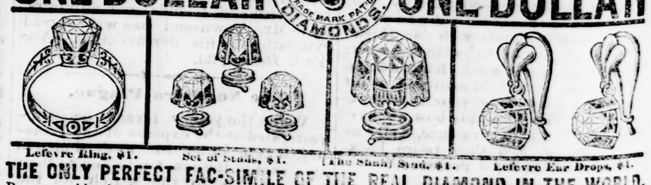
DIAMONDS

IN SOLID GOLD MOUNTINGS.

ONE DOLLAR ONE DOLLAR



Lefevre Ring, $1. Set of Studs, $1. Lace Stud Stud, $1. Lefevre Ear Drops, $1.

THE ONLY PERFECT FAC-SIMILE OF THE REAL DIAMOND IN THE WORLD.

Pronounced by the Academy of France that M. Lefevre has really obtained artificially the true diamond. The basis of these gems are pure crystals found in the Sierra Nevadas, from whence they are exported to the Lefevre Laboratory in Paris, France, where they are submitted to a chemical and voltaic process, imparting to themself the BRILLIANCY, HARDNESS and reflective qualities of the natural diamond, and making them as desirable for Wear, Brilliancy, and Beauty, as the veritable gems themselves. The Ring, Studs, and Ear Drops, as displayed in this announcement, are the entire emeralds of SOLID GOLD MOUNTINGS, constituting a WONDERFUL LEFEVRE DIAMOND, warranted by certificate U. S. Mint assayer.

ON RECEIPT OF ONE DOLLAR we will send free, by REGISTERED MAIL, to any address "Book on Diamonds," with illustrations of artistic Diamond Jewelry in solid (14 k.) gold, mailed free.

I have seen many imitations of diamonds, but never any that could equal the Lefevre Brilliant.—M. ELLROY, Stamford, Conn.

I am in receipt of a pair of the Wonderful Lefevre Ear Drops, for one dollar, to say that I am pleased with them hardly tells the tale, they are simply elegant.—ANDREW MORRIS, Hendersonville, N. Y.

The Wonderful Lefevre Diamond Ring, for one dollar, came to hand this morning. It is really elegant, giving entire satisfaction and eliciting wonder and admiration from all who see it.—W. H. REEDY, Martinsburg, W. Va.

The Lefevre Diamonds, mounted in solid gold, are truly marvelous.—B. F. AVERY & SONS, Home and Farm, Louisville, Ky.

The eminently successful experiments of M. Lefevre silences all doubt of the artificial reproduction of the true diamond.—M. DU FRENOY, the great French Scientist.

We guarantee the Wonderful Lefevre Diamonds for One Dollar, to be mounted in Solid Gold, and will cheerfully refund the money if found unsatisfactory. Address all orders to the

The Wall street of Chicago is trying to make a corner in wheat, but as it will require about $30,000,000 in cash or credit to carry out the plan, there is no danger of its succeeding. The stock on hand is too immense to be cornered by any combination likely to be formed.

The French plan of keeping silver at par with gold is by limiting its coinage. This is the plan suggested by Secretary Sherman. The Bank of France pays gold upon its notes when demanded, but $5,000,000 of silver are kept in circulation at par with gold by a strict limitation of the coinage. When gold is wanted for any purpose the silver is practically redeemable in the more valuable metal.

Events in The State.

The Counting of Electoral Votes.

Representative Southard of Ohio intends at the first opportunity to report for action by the House a bill to regulate the counting of electoral votes for president and vice president, the main features of which were agreed upon last session by the select committee of which he is chairman. The bill is based upon the principle that the verification of electoral votes is the duty and prerogative of the two houses of Congress. It provides that, when there is only one return from a state, this return shall not be rejected except by the affirmative votes of both houses, and when there are two or more returns, that one only shall be received and counted which is affirmatively agreed upon by the two houses acting seperately. The committee is empowered to report at any time, and its members are impressed with the necessity of prompt action on the subject to secure its settlement by the present Congress.

Registration of Voters.

A correspondent of the Charleston (S. C.) News and Courier makes a suggestion about the registration of voters in that State which might well be adopted. He proposes that every citizen who now has the right to vote shall be enrolled, but that hereafter nobody shall be put on the list unless he can write his own name in the register in a legible hand. This would not deprive any present voter of the ballot, but, if impartially enforced, would gradually raise the average intelligence of voters, which is sadly needed.

HOME REMEDY.
A CERTAIN AND SPEEDY
CURE FOR SCROFULA.
FACTS ARE STUBBORN THINGS

TRADE MARK TRADE MARK
(Registered.)
A BRIEF HISTORY:
The following is from the Raleigh News, and was a voluntary insertion and not an advertisement:
"Years ago an old Indian left a receipt for curing Scrofula with Mrs Person's father. Mrs. Person lives in Franklinton, or in that section. A child was born to Mrs. Person, and it had the Scrofula. The doctors gave it up to die. She thought of that receipt, that was now old and musty, and hid away in an upstairs drawer. She concluded if the child was bound to die, it wouldn't hurt to follow that receipt. She went out and gathered the herb, got the whiskey, and did as directed to the child. Her child now lives well and hearty. More than this: On by a few months since a South Carolinian, whose name has slipped us, was suffering with some scrofulous affection on the heel. He had been to the Hot Springs in Arkansas, and from there he went to Kittrell Springs. Not finding this any good. At Kittrell's they told him of Mrs. Person's recipe, and Dr. ——— wrote to Mrs Person if she cured that South Carolinian her receipt was worth money. And the South Carolinian sent her word if she cured him he would give her five hundred dollars. She sent him directions what to do, and added if they cured him he could send her twenty-five dollars; she wouldn't ask five hundred. The South Carolinian went home, and shortly afterward sent Mrs. Person a check for twenty-five dollars, and wrote the most grateful letter he knew how. Bless him so old Indians. We would like to have one for a near neighbor."

UNEQUALLED AS A BLOOD PURIFIER.
MRS. JOE PERSON:
The medicine I purchased of you last winter proved of lasting benefit to my son, who was troubled with 27 running sores, some of them quite large, and of a scrofulous nature. In less than three weeks after commencing the use of your remedy, he was perfectly restored, and is to-day quite sound and healthy. As TONIC AND BLOOD PURIFIER IT HAS NO EQUAL. Hoping that you may be spared for many years of usefulness, I remain, Very respectfully,
L. J. STOKES.

AS A TONIC AND ALTERATIVE
MOORESVILLE, IREDELL CO., N. C.
Being desirous of adding my testimonials to others, concerning the merits of Mrs Joe Person's Remedy for Scrofula, I take pleasure in saying that as a tonic and alterative I do not think it has an equal. I have fairly tested it, and after trying Vegetine, Sarsaparilla, Vinegar Bitters, and various other remedies, I have no hesitation in pronouncing it far superior to any TONIC I have ever used. When I commenced using Mrs. Person's Remedy I was very weak, complection sallow, and now I am WELL,
Respectfully your friend,
MRS. H. T. BROWN.

THREE CHILDREN IN THREE WEEKS.
CASTALIA, N. C.
MRS JOE PERSON:
Dear Madame—Your letter has been received, and on account of being absent from home for a week or two, have not had the opportunity to answer it. I certainly will take great pleasure in doing all I can in this within my power towards getting you patients for treatment of Scrofula. I hardly know how to express my gratitude to you for curing my three little children. They took medicine from my family physician for about two years, with scarcely any relief at all. I tried your remedy, and in less than three weeks they were all perfectly cured, and have never shown any sign of breaking out again. I feel very thankful to you. I can safely say that I believe your remedy to be a certain cure for Scrofula. If I can ever be of any service to you in any way, I want you to be sure and call on me. Yours truly,
WM. H. ARRINGTON.

"It will Cure if Fairly Tested."
It gives me much pleasure to be able to state that I have derived an effectual cure of Scrofula from the use of Mrs. Joe Person's remedy for that disease. I had suffered from Scrofula for more than three years, and had despaired of ever getting well. I was treated during that time by three very eminent physicians, without any good result. I then went to the National Surgical Institute, at Atlanta, Ga., and was treated there more than two months, with no better result than my family physicians met with. After returned from the Institute I was persuaded to try Mrs. Person's remedy, and I had not used it more than a week before I discovered its curative and healing properties. My sores soon began to heal, and the color of my skin changed as fast as the sores healed. I had not thought of ever getting well again, but my hopes increased, my low spiritedness fled before the remedy, and I am now enjoying splendid health and am in good spirits. The remedy is mild as a purgative, and a strong tonic; it will heal the most stubborn sore in three weeks if taken regularly. It is my opinion that it should be taken some time after the sore is healed, to remove the cause of its effects. It should be taken regularly by all means, for I have sometimes neglected it, from the pressure of business, and in all cases found that the cure already made would commence to retrograde, and for this alone it should be taken regularly until an effectual cure is completed. Nothing should prevent regularity in the use of the remedy and it should be taken at the proper time. I would recommend to all who are suffering from Scrofula to try it. It will surely cure you if you give it a fair test. I speak from experience, and not from hearsay. I am a grateful recipient of a cure from the use of it and I am under many and lasting obligations to Mrs. Person for the great relief I have obtained from its use. Sufferers, try it and be cured, is my advice.
I am, respectfully,
JAMES A. MORRIS.
KITTRELLS, N. C.

My receipt for the cure of Scrofula has been tried by me with the most unprecedented success for the last twelve years, and I have no hesitation in recommending it as a sovereign cure for that disease and as a general Tonic and Blood Purifier. It is everywhere giving perfect satisfaction, while my experience with it is too limited for me to specially recommend it for other diseases, I believe it will ultimately prove to be of benefit in all cases arising from impurity of the blood and prove [illegible] or other diseases.

A CASE OF CANCER.
FAYETTEVILLE, N. C., Aug, 12, 18.8.
MRS. JOE PERSON:
Dear Madam—I have been using your Remedy for Scrofula over five months as an experiment for cancer. The cancer is of long standing, the doctors have been treating it, more or less, for twelve years, it has taken off my upper lip and a good part of my nose. When I began to use your Remedy it was growing rapidly worse, but the medicine seemed to check it very soon, and it has not made much progress since, except about two months ago, the medicine gave out, and I was without several days. It then seemed to start anew, and grew worse very fast, until I had taken the medicine about a week, since then it has not changed much. I think if I could have had the medicine soon enough, it would have cured me.
For more than a year before using your medicine, I was troubled very much with a disease of the heart an irregularity in its action. It would miss every third beat for hours, then at other times it would increase in its action, and run up to 20 beats per minute. Since using your medicine I am almost entirely relieved of this, rarely feel it, and then not enough to speak of it. I would recommend any one suffering with heart disease to try your medicine. As a Tonic and Alterative, I do not think it has any superior. I have been using all the most powerful alteratives known to the medical profession for the last 12 years and I know of none superior to this. I think your medicine is destined to be a great blessing to the afflicted. Let every one that needs a Tonic or an Alterative give it a trial, and I do not think they will be disappointed.
Very truly and Respectfully,
J. HUNTER BOYD, Box 141,
Fayetteville, N. C.

LOCAL BRIEFS.

——There are rumors that a talented corps of local artistes will soon produce the cantata of "Esther."

——Business was pretty brisk yesterday, and a great many persons were in the city from the country.

—— A key of a Herring safe was found in the lobby of the post office, and may be had by calling at this office.

——There will be a regular communication of Wm. G. Hut Lodge tomorrow evening, at 7:30. Prompt and full attendance is desired.

——The grates for the government building, 19 in number, and elegant in design, have been put in position by Mr. John Whitelaw. They were made by the Mott Iron Works.

To Sportsmen.

Mr. J. F. Greiner, of 221 North Fourth St. Philadelphia, manufactures the Hunters' Leggins, which are almost a necessity to the comfort of sportsmen. He makes a specialty of this kind of work.

Funeral of Mr. Ed. S. Badger.

The funeral services of this lamented young gentleman will be held from Christ church, this afternoon, at 3½ o'clock, Rev. M. M. Marshall, D. D., officiating. The remains will be interred in Oakwood.

Has Moved Here.

Col. L. L. Polk, State Commissioner of Agriculture, has brought his family from Anson county to this city, and it will in future be their residence. He has occupied the house on east Jones street, not long since occupied by Rev. Mr. Huffham.

McRae & Strange.

These two gentlemen are now associated in the practice of the law, at Wilmington, Col. Duncan K. McRae, having left the west and removed to Wilmington. Both he and Mr. Thos. W. Strange are legal gentlemen of high ability. All matters entrusted to them will receive careful attention. See their card elsewhere.

It has been Tested.

Among all the remedies of the age, none has been put to a severer test than Vegetine, and none have won more favor with invalids. The cures and relief are in some cases wonderful and are attested by the statements of the persons benefitted. The medicine has become a popular remedy, and is asked for everywhere. It is sold everywhere. See the advertisement.

Personals.

Ex-Judge W. J. Clarke proposes to open a law office in Raleigh. He will continue to reside in Newbern.

Ex-Judge A. W. Tourgee has shipped his law library to Erie, Pa., and it is said, proposes to remove there ere long. Erie is on the Canada frontier, and it looks as if the Ex-Judge wanted to get as far away from Dixie as possible.

An Old Landmark Sold.

Yesterday the building at the intersection of Morgan and Dawson streets, for so many years used as the Masonic Lodge, was sold at auction to the highest bidder. The house was knocked down to Mr. A. H. Temple for the sum of $650. On account of the exceeding smallness of the price offered, it is doubtful if the sale will be confirmed.

Convicts.

Deputy Sheriff James Ellington, of Rockingham, brought down three colored convicts who were taken in charge by the penitentiary authorities. Their names, offences, and terms of sentence are: Amanda Dalton, murder, 5 years; Henry Gilmer, alias Gilbert, larceny, 2 years; David Herbin, larceny, 3 years. The number of convicts placed in the penitentiary during November was over 85.

Robbery.

Henderson Cain, colored, proprietor of a restaurant on Wilmington street, is in the habit of keeping his surplus funds in his trunk. Some one must have been well aware of that fact, for yesterday when Henderson went to his trunk he found a roll of bills amounting to $37.50 was taken away. He spoke of the occurrence, and about an hour afterwards found $25 of the money under the bed on the floor, where the scared thief had thrown it. The police were notified of the occurrence.

Injunction Against Wake County Taxes.

The injunction mentioned in a telegram in the NEWS yesterday, as granted by Judge Seymour, amounts to this: By the State Constitution the combined State and County taxes can never exceed 66⅔ cents on the $100 valuation of property, and $2 on the poll. The Board of County Commissioners which just went out of office, levied, in defiance of the Constitution, 84 cents on the $100, and $2.52 on the poll, being about 25 per cent. more than was legal. The Sheriff, as in duty bound, was collecting the whole levy until stopped by this injunction. No one is protected by it, however, except those who come in and make themselves parties to the suit. All others have to pay the tax in full.

The restraining order from Judge Seymour reached here yesterday, whereupon Mr. Chas. D. Upchurch, Superior Court Clerk, issued the following order to the Sheriff, J. J. Nowell, and W. R. Pool, Esq., Chairman Board of County Commissioners:

NORTH CAROLINA, } In the WAKE COUNTY. } Superior Court.

A. Creech, W. C. Stronach, Geo. W. Graham, Walter Clark and Lynn Adams, tax payers, &c., v. J. J. Nowell, Sheriff, and Board of Commissioners of Wake county. — Order to show cause, &c., and Restraining Order.

On the annexed complaint, duly verified, let the defendant, the said Sheriff J. J. Nowell, show cause before me, at Raleigh, N. C., on December 13th, 1878 why an injunction should not issue against him as demanded in the complaint. And the Board of County Commissioners, at the same place and time, are commanded to show cause why the mandamus asked for in the complaint shall not issue against them.

And it is further ordered that the Sheriff J. J. Nowell, his agents and deputies, be in the meantime restrained, and is hereby forbidden to collect any greater rate of taxation upon the property and polls of these plaintiffs and those who shall come in and make themselves parties to this action, than 66⅔ cents on the $100 valuation of property, and two dollars ($2 00) on the poll, exclusive of the levy for graded school purposes in Raleigh township, until further order of this Court, upon the plaintiffs' entering into undertaking, in accordance with law, for $500.

Musical Rehearsal at Peace Institute.

Friday evening the usual monthly rehearsal at this popular Institution of learning for young ladies, was given. Everything at these entertainments shows how well each department of the school throughout is sustained. The distinct, easy utterance of the young ladies who declaimed, showed that the greatest care and attention is given to this important branch of education.

The principal feature of the rehearsal was the rendition of three sonatas by Beethoven, and several others by Chopin and Mendelsohn. Before the rendering of the pieces by Beethoven, Prof. A. Baumann, of whose extensive reputation, and excellence as an instructor too much is known to need comment, read a few reminiscences from the life of this great Artiste, for the purpose of cultivating in his pupils a high standard of appreciation for the higher order of music. Among the many beautiful songs "The Elf King," by Schubert, and "Man the Life Boat" by Russell, were especially notable and won merited applause. The musicales of the Peace are always very pleasurable, and show the talent both of the instructors and pupils.

United States Circuit Court.

This Court met at 10 o'clock yesterday, His Honor Judge Brooks presiding. The following cases were taken up:

74. The same vs. George L. Shackelford. Same entries as above.

John W. Hayes and N. B. Canaday, Esq., of Oxford, were, on motion of C. M. Busbee, admitted as attorneys to practice in the Court.

All the jurors, save those from Wake county, were discharged for the Term.

Court adjourned until to-morrow at 10 o'clock.

The Minstrels.

The knights of the comic arena, Barlow, Wilson, Primrose and West, with one of the finest troupes of artistes in the country, will delight the mirth-loving public Monday and Tuesday evenings, at Tucker Hall. Of the many merits of the performers it is useless to speak, for their names are almost like household words among the theatre-going public. In every particular the members of the troupe know no superiors in their line. The varied excellencies of the performance prove a pleasurable feature, for the songs, dances, dialogues, banjo eccentricities, etc., are all entrusted to conscientious artists. The public will have its laugh, and surely go away well pleased.

The Best Out.

Mr. T. B. Macon's oyster trade has grown into great proportions. He will hereafter keep specially on sale the splendid "Cherrystone" oysters, which are unequaled for size and flavor. The establishment is admirably managed, and the clever proprietor supplies nearly the whole city with the bivalves.

An Attempted Burglary.

What was, no doubt, an attempt at burglary, was prevented on Friday night, at the residence of Mr. T. N. Richardson, on West Morgan street. That gentleman was awakened by hearing the blinds shake, and creeping near the window, saw both blinds held partially open, while a negro's hand was visible. The rascal fled before he could be fired at. As before said, it behooves householders to keep an eye to window and door fastenings, for thieves are both abundant and daring here now.

Trial of Counterfeiters.

Henry Lumley, white, of this county, was before U. S. Commissioner Purnell yesterday, charged with counterfeiting silver coins. The evidence showed that the money was made in copper moulds, and must have been so crude as to appear but little like currency, the arrangements being of the most primitive character. The moulds were shown, also some of the metal used. He was held in a $500 bond to appear. Another counterfeiting case comes up for trial Tuesday.

The "Old Hickory" brand is a sun cured tobacco such as could be had in ante bellum times. There is none on the market now that will compare with it. *

Fine Line of Goods.

At the elegant dry goods emporium of A H Baker, on Fayetteville street, is shown an admirable and varied stock which is offered at very reasonable rates. Purchasers will do well to pay the store a visit. *

What Eminent St. Louis Physicians Say.

PREVENTIVE OF MALARIA.—Tolden's Liebig's Extract of Beef and Tonic Invigorator is a very agreeable article of diet, and particularly useful when tonics are required, being tolerated when other forms of animal food are rejected. In diptheria, ague, malarial typhoid fevers, and every depressing disease, its use will be attended with great advantage. We have prescribed it with excellent success. J. B. Leslie, M.; G. H. Copp, M. D.; S. C. Parsons, M. D.; R. A. Vaughan, M. D.; Drs. S. L and J. C. Nicolet; Wm. Porter, M. D.; and many others. Sold by all druggists. nov 28-1w

Port Grape Wine.

This Wine is made in New Jersey, and is said to surpass anything in the way of wine ever made. It is called Speer's Wine, produced by Mr. Speer. Since the true analysis of its properties has been published by James E. Chilton & Co., those who can afford it are adopting its use in preference to foreign wines. Prof. Chilton used it in his own family, and has written to the public the following card:

Laboratory of S. R. Chilton & Co.,
NEW YORK, March 11.

We have recently made a careful analysis of the Port Grape Wine produced by Mr. A. Paul Speer, and do not hesitate in pronouncing it pure; it contains all the properties of the Oporto grape, and therefore, for medical uses, it is superior to other wines. Its principal effects upon the system are mildly stimulating, diuretic, sudorific and tonic. It will prove beneficial in affections of the kidneys and chronic diseases, with general debility of the constitution. Physicians may safely recommend it to their patients in place of the many doubtful mixtures too often sold as pure wine,

Jas. E. Chilton & Co., Analytical Chemists

This Wine can be had of druggists, and is a most excellent article for the Key person, especially females. It is a very superior table wine, and the most healthy drink now in use. It is not a spirituous or manufactured article, like most native wines. Portland transcript. Salesroom 34 Barclay-st., N. Y. Williams & Haywood, Agents. dec 6-1w
